

TCI Experiences Disclaimer

TCI Experiences ("we", "our", "us"), which operates under the incorporated name Paradise Getaways LTD. is a marketing and concierge service company operating in the Turks and Caicos Islands. We help facilitate bookings for a wide range of activities, tours, and excursions.

Please read the following points carefully:

Role and Responsibility: Our role is to assist in connecting you with providers of various experiences we believe to be trustworthy and safe. However, it's important to note that we don't operate these activities or tours ourselves. As such, we are not responsible for any accidents, injuries, damages or losses that occur during these experiences.

Assumption of Risk: Participating in any activity or tour carries inherent risks. When you book or participate in an experience through us, you are voluntarily assuming all risks related to that activity. It's your responsibility to assess these risks and your personal ability to safely participate.

Indemnity: You agree to indemnify us from all claims, losses, liabilities and expenses that may arise from your use of our services, your participation in any of the experiences, or your violation of this disclaimer.

By using our services, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agreed to this disclaimer. For any queries, please get in touch with us.
